Blast Rocks UN Building as Cuban Minister Speaks

Africans Lashed for Critical UN Attacks

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak declared today a rescue mission was sent to Stanleyville after Christophe Gbenye, the rebel leader, threatened white hostages "would be devoured and gasoline fires set at their homes to cook them alive."

He spoke in the U.N. Security Council to reply to charges from some African states that the United States and Belgium showed bias against blacks in carrying out the mission in which 1,700 whites were rescued and almost 80 perished at the hands of their captors.

He accused the Africans of trying to split Africa from Europe "and even to pit the black man against the white."

He read out to the council a message he said was received from Gbenye that said "we will make fetishes of the hearts of the American and Belgian hostages...we will parade in their skins."

He denounced Gbenye as a "contemptible man" from whom he sought in vain some understanding and reason.

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak goes before the Security Council today to reply to African charges that Belgium landed paratroops in Stanleyville in an attempt to wipe out the Congo rebel force.

A Belgian source said Spaak would recount events that led up to the U.S.-Belgian mission which rescued some 1,700 whites held hostage by the rebels.

Spaak was expected to emphasize that Belgium brought Congo Premier Moise Tshombe and rebel leader Christophe Gbenye together last summer in a vain attempt to end the revolt.

Both Spaak and U.S. authorities have insisted that the Stanleyville mission was not a military operation but was purely humanitarian, to save the lives of European men, women and children held captive.

The Belgian minister has stressed that the quick withdrawal of the paratroops was concrete proof of the humanitarian nature of the mission. He has accused the Soviet Union of resorting to "cold war tactics" in charging that the Belgian action reflected colonial aspirations.

Since the Congo debate began Wednesday, a chorus of African nations have accused the United States and Belgium of murderous motives in emotion-charged speeches that shocked Western delegates.

There was speculation the United States would make a stinging reply and challenge the African critics to explain their own motives in backing the rebel cause.

Algerian Ambassador Tewfik Bouattour, the last speaker Thursday, declared that the Western press was more shocked by the killing of 80 white hostages in the Congo than by the "tens of thousands of Africans slaughtered by the Congolese army."

The Africans also have loosed a hail of invective against Tshombe, who arrives in New York Saturday. He will present his own charges that Algeria, Ghana and the United Arab Republic are sending military supplies to the Congo rebels and the Soviet Union is backing this.

Faubus Gives Up Special Session Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that he will not call a special legislative session on his road construction program.

Faubus said there is not enough time to adequately prepare for legislation to be considered at such a session but that he will submit it to a regular session which starts Jan. 11.

By JOHN R. STARR

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus today shelved his plans to call a special legislative session, but he made it clear that he has not lost faith in his road program with which it would have been involved.

Faubus said he would introduce legislation to implement his program early in the regular session, perhaps on the first day, Jan. 11.

Faubus announced that there would be no special session in a terse, 90-word statement handed to newsmen at the start of a news conference.

He said his decision was reached because "There is insufficient time to make complete and adequate preparations of the measures to be considered."

Then Faubus launched into a discussion of his proposals but he cautiously avoided pinning himself down to the one cent per gallon gasoline tax increase and $150 million bond issue which is generally regarded as his program.

"So far, I'm going with this," Faubus said. "But we're considering alternatives and taking suggestions from everyone."

Faubus said he also would look with favor on legislative efforts to increase highway revenues by raising truck license fees, and eliminating low-cost license fees for National Guardsmen and natural resource trucks.

"If I were a Guardsman, I would give up my special license to get better roads," Faubus said. "If I were a trucker, I would agree to higher license fees to get roads. And I've never been for the natural resource tags. But I don't know how you'd get rid of it."

Faubus also mentioned former Gov. Sid McMath in discussing the merits of a bond issue program as opposed to a pay-as-you-go program. McMath sponsored a $21 million bond proposal in 1949.

"It would have been cheaper if McMath had issued $100 million worth of bonds and built more roads," Faubus said. "The increased construction costs eat up the savings of (Continued on Page Two)

Defense Dept. Will Soon Make Drastic Move, Shifting Reserves Into National Guard

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was reported today to have approved a drastic streamlining that would shift 150,000 Army reservists and their units into the National Guard.

Some 150,000 more reservists would be dropped into a manpower pool to be tapped for reinforcements in emergencies.

As a practical matter, the Organized Army Reserve would cease to exist.

Backup for the 16-division regular Army would be concentrated in an expanded 550,000-man National Guard.

The keynote is readiness.

All guard units would be built into well-equipped, well-drilled outfits in condition to be used within 60 days or so of their call for cold war or limited war crises.

To this end, 21 low-priority, understrength and under-equipped National Guard and Reserve divisions would be abolished and reconstituted as high priority, reinforced brigades within the Guard.

It is estimated that about $100 million can be saved in the first year, eventually perhaps up to $250 million annually. Much of this would be plowed back into buying more modern equipment and arms for the Guard.

A similar reorganization that would combine the Air Force Reserve and Air Guard is in the cards, but details have not been worked out.

The major streamlining—second in two years—stems from McNamara's belief that the present Reserve-Guard structure is cumbersome and wasteful.

It also grows from his conviction that there is no reason to retain elements that cannot be ready with reasonable swiftness.

Barring a hitch, the Defense Department is expected to announce the controversial moves soon, perhaps Saturday.

Information on the plan came from congressional sources. Key members of Congress have been briefed on it.

Pentagon officials refused to talk with newsmen about the matter.

This, in broad outline, is the way the new reorganization will stack up, sources said:

The current 400,000-man Guard would be swelled by about 150,000 men from the organized Army Reserve. The other 150,000 reservists now drawing drill pay would go into the manpower pool that would total about 450,000 men available to fill out units or create new ones in time of need.

This would reduce overall drill pay strength from 700,000 to 550,000. But where only about two-thirds of the 700,000 now are in high-priority units, the 550,000 all will be in such units. A high-priority unit is one allotted 80 per cent of full strength and 100 per cent of its equipment. It is expected to be in top shape.

A total of 15 Guard divisions and 6 Reserve divisions, all now given low priority on men and equipment and unlikely to be of much use in less than a year from callup, would be reorganized into high-priority Guard brigades of perhaps 6,000 men.

Of these 21 brigades, a total of 16 would be assigned to fill out priority guard divisions. There are eight such divisions, which have important roles in war plans.

The remaining 5 new brigades would be independent, along with 11 other such groups in the present priority force, and available for less-than-division-sized tasks.

The remaining 5 new brigades would be independent, along with 11 other such groups in the present priority force, and available for less-than-division-sized tasks.

Thirteen reserve training divisions, essentially paper outfits signed to each, would go into the Guard structure. These divisions would come to life only in a general mobilization and would be filled out with draftees, volunteers and men from the reserve pool.

Fourteen Army corps headquarters would be abolished. Their main duties are to supervise the reserves.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says he will make Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey responsible for coordinating and pressing government programs that are dedicated to the goal of equal opportunity.

This announcement Thursday night to the Urban League was accompanied by a Johnson pledge to make the emancipation of Negroes "a fact" and a promise that he will be content with "nothing less than the full assimilation of more than 20 million Negroes into American life."

In both instances Johnson drew sustained applause.

Urban League Executive Director Whitney Young told the President that Negroes trust him, believe in him and 95 per cent of them voted for him.

The six government groups whose activities Johnson said Humphrey has agreed to coordinate were listed by the President as the Justice Department's civil rights division, the Civil Rights Commission, the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity in Housing, the Community Relations Service, the soon-to-be created Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity in Employment.

When Johnson was vice president he headed the employment opportunity group. Whether Humphrey will become its chairman is up in the air—as is the status of the committee at a time of transition to operations under the new civil rights law.

After promising to make Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation a fact, Johnson said that until a qualified person, regardless of where he lives or worships or the color of his skin, "has the right, unquestioned and unrestrained, to go in and cast his ballot in every precinct in this country, I am not going to be satisfied."

School Music Dept. Plans Yule Concerts

The Hope High School Music Department will feature three music groups in two concerts for the Christmas season. The Junior High Band, High School band and the High School Capella Choir will perform.

The music will be presented in two special concerts next week the first on Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. for the fourth, fifth and sixth grade school children and the Junior High School.

The second concert will be for the High School student body on Friday morning, December 18. There will not be a formal evening concert, but parents and interested persons are invited to attend either of the performances.

The Christmas music will be left largely to the Capella Choir which will play the "Carol of the Bells," "Carol of the Drum," and "Pat-A-Pan." The band will however present "The Children's March," by Edwin Franko Goldman and a suite of Christmas music.

Also included on the program will be the "English Folksong Suite" by the British composer, Ralph Vaughan Williams and two compositions by Charles Carter, Chief arranger for the Florida State University Band.

working a 10-hour day can get tiring as much serious trouble as a fellow working a 10-hour week.

As a matter of fact, the fewer hours a fellow works the more trouble he has to spend keeping out of trouble. He has a lot more time to devote to this problem.

A 10-hour work week also would take much of the urgency out of our present fast-paced living which tends to make us neurotic.

Instead of stopping off on the way home for a short quick one, we'd be able to stop off for a tall slow one.

We'd be able to study more history by staying up to watch more late, late, late movies on television.

Our tempers would become sweeter as there would be more time to find a good parking place for our cars.

We'd have more time to fight crabgrass in the suburbs.

We'd have more time to write letters to our congressman.

Husbands would become more noble as they found more time to ponder their wives' good advice.

Punctuality would improve. After all, a fellow who goes to the office only two days a week can't be late as often as a fellow who goes there five days a week.

We'd even have more leisure to listen to moralists explain why too much leisure would destroy us.

Negro Youths Are Charged With Theft

Two Negro youths, Charles Jones, 16, and Willie Lee Cooper, 17, have been charged in connection with the theft of a wrist watch and pistol from Hope Pawn Shop earlier this week. The arrests were made by City Officers Long and McCulley. The youths have been charged with petty larceny.

Charges Against 20 Mississippi Men Dismissed

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—At the request of the Justice Department, a woman U.S. commissioner today freed a 20th man arrested last week in connection with the slaying of three civil rights workers in Mississippi.

Commissioner Verla Lee Sweatman dismissed the charge against James Edward Jordan, 38, during a preliminary hearing here that took only two minutes.

Nineteen other white men arrested in the sensational case were freed at Meridian Thursday when another woman commissioner, Esther Carter, refused to hear a purported confession on grounds it constituted hearsay evidence.

Government lawyers were stunned at what one called an unprecedented action. They refused to offer any other evidence at the Meridian hearing and announced they would ask that a federal grand jury be convened quickly to consider the evidence.

The FBI had arrested 21 white men Dec. 4 in connection with the slayings last summer near Philadelphia, Miss., of the three civil rights workers.

The 21st man, Horace D. Barnett, was arrested near Shreveport, La., and was not affected by the preliminary hearings in Mississippi. He was reported today to be conferring with his attorney in Shreveport.

U.S. Commissioner James Barton in Shreveport said he has not received any communication from the Justice Department or from Barnett's counsel. Barton has not set a date for a hearing. Barnett, 25, of Cullen, La., is free under $5,000 bond on a conspiracy charge.

Jordan, also arrested on a conspiracy charge, is a construction worker at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration testing facility in Hancock County, Miss. He is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

Jordan did not appear at the Biloxi hearing at which his freedom was announced, being represented by his attorney.

Both Jordan and Barnett formerly lived in the Meridian area.

It will be up to U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox at Jackson to convene the grand jury. Robert Owen, Justice Department attorney, said the request would be made to Cox as soon as possible.

When Miss Carter ruled against the testimony of an FBI agent, Owen declined to put up (Continued on Page Three)

War Against Viet Nam Reds to Be Speeded

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials indicated today the United States has reached agreement with the government of South Viet Nam on a program for intensifying the war against Communist guerrilla forces.

The sources were reluctant, however, to confirm specifically that this could mean carrying the conflict beyond the boundaries of South Viet Nam by bombing supply lines in the Communist-held jungles of Laos. They did not deny that implication.

The decisions, announced in Saigon this morning, are an outgrowth of consultations held here a week ago by Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor with top administration policymakers, including President Johnson.

Johnson sent Taylor back to Saigon with instructions to work out immediately, with South Vietnamese leaders, plans for stepping up the war effort, on both military and civilian fronts.

The President avoided any public statement then of a decision to carry air strikes beyond South Vietnamese territory. Privately, some officials indicated that action could be expected within a matter of weeks against the supply lines, but that there would be no air strikes, at this stage, directly against the territory of North Viet Nam.

In the other main field of action, Johnson attached top priority to measures to build political stability in South Viet Nam—but that is a goal toward which the United States has been trying to move for more than a year, and one on which U.S. officials do not expect quick or dramatic results. They would be happy simply to begin to reverse the apparent tide of political disintegration in the country.

Faubus Gives
bond interest) on a pay-as-you-go program."
Faubus further indicated that he isn't warm about pay-as-you-go by saying, "Let's do the job or let's just go along as we are now. Let's fix everybody's road and open up these tourist areas.
I'm convinced the revenues generated by these new roads will pay for the program."
Faubus said he realizes that he will not be around to see the program completed because it will take more than two years and he has said he will not seek another term.
"But in this two years, we'll build every mile of roads and streets that you can get out of that Highway Department," he said.
Faubus said he had nothing to gain personally from the road program, and that he probably would not make a great effort to sell it to voters who would have to approve any bond proposal.
"Personally, I don't need a road," he said. "I'll lay out the program, explain it, and let the people make the choice. I'm obligated to present a program and I'll put up the best one I can devise, but it's no skin off my nose. I'll be philosophical about it. I won't take the vote on a bond issue as a personal victory or defeat. It's a policy decision by the people of Arkansas."

Faubus was asked about possible opposition from city officials and county judges because the Highway Department will administer the program.
"I think they recognize that if the state puts up matching money, it should have some say about the construction," he said.
"Everyone agrees that no measure would have a chance of passage unless there are some minimum specifications set up."
The Faubus program provides for $90 million of the bond money to go to reconstruction of the state highway system and for the counties and cities to get $30 million each on a matching basis.
Construction projects would be initiated by the cities and counties and submitted to the Highway Department for approval.
Faubus said he now is having an opinion survey made which covers the road program and other topics.
He also was asked about a generally expressed opinion that Arkansas voters will not approve a bond issue of the size he proposes. "I'm not sure that premise is correct," Faubus
said.
Faubus said that if the legislature approves his program, it will be quickly submitted to voters, probably in February, so that the legislature will have time to adopt implementing laws before the regular session adjourns in mid-March.
Faubus said that before he presents the program, he will prepare a statement which will show what each county and city would stand to get from it.

Painted Room Causes Illness
PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Thirteen elementary school pupils and their teacher at the W.S. Peirce School here were taken ill Thursday in their freshly painted classroom.
All were treated at Graduate Hospital and released.
Dr. Joseph F. Tabasco, who examined the pupils at the scene, said the illness appeared to have been 5 per cent from paint fumes and 95 per cent psychological.

The group sang the familiar "Silent Night" and "Joy to the World" under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Renshaw. The story, "No Room," was the devotion which the hostess gave, and Mrs. Renshaw voiced the opening prayer.

The club president, Mrs. Carlton Roberts, gave a poem, "The Legend," and Mrs. Renshaw presented a Christmas reading, "A Visit from the Apostle Paul." The spirit of the season was evidenced in both, and all joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Beneath a brightly decorated tree the group exchanged Christmas gifts, and Secret Pals were revealed. The hostess served cake and coffee or cold drinks to 13 members and one guest, little Miss Regina Renshaw.

Wants Ideas on the Money Too

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The people who sponsored the new voter registration system should offer the state some ideas on where to get the money to finance the system, Gov. Orval E. Faubus suggested Wednesday.

Several groups worked for adoption of the amendment, approved as Amendment 54 in the Nov. 3 general election. Berlon Davis, president of the Arkansas County Clerks Association, estimated Tuesday that it would take $250,000 to set up the new registration system.

Acquitted by Insanity Plea

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Clarence Carpenter, 28, a Negro of Jefferson County, was ordered committed to the State Hospital Wednesday by Circuit Judge Henry W. Smith of Pine Bluff.

Carpenter was acquitted by reason of insanity Monday of a charge of assault with intent to kill and maiming. He was charged in connection with an assault on Robert Wise, 56, in a cotton field.

The State Hospital had twice declared Carpenter without psychosis, but a Circuit Court jury ruled he was innocent by reason of insanity.

SIDE GLANCES

"Let's have some good loud ho-ho's today, Trolling, or I'm afraid I'll have to ask you to turn in your pillow!"

"DEAR ABBY"

SHE REALLY SLIPPED!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Recently the janitor who works in the office where my sister is a secretary told her in front of some other employees that her slip was showing. My sister became very angry and told him that she thought he was out of line to have made such a personal remark to her. As a result of this, many unpleasant things have developed which I do not care to go into here. But our family is now arguing about it at home. Some of the members of our family say that a person who is in a lower class should not make personal remarks to someone in a higher class. Your opinion is needed.

ELECTED TO WRITE
Dear Elected: Class shames! Just because a man's a janitor does not mean that he is of a class below that of a secretary. The poor man was probably only trying to be helpful. Your sister showed more than her slip — she revealed her ignorance and arrogance as well.

Dear Abby: Our son married a girl with two children. He legally adopted these children. It has been almost two years now and the wife and children have never called us anything but "Mr. and Mrs. So-And-So." It is very embarrassing when our friends and neighbors ask if those children don't know that we are their grandparents. We think it's terrible, and want to know what you think and what should be done?

"MR. AND MRS. SO-AND-SO"
Dear Mr. and Mrs.: Your son is half to blame. And since you are closer to him, he is the one to approach about remedying this unfortunate situation. Perhaps his wife is shy and has been waiting for you to invite her to call you something more personal. Give her the benefit of the doubt. But ask your son to straighten her out.

Dear Abby: What does a girl so when she is smarter than every boy she knows? I'm a rather pretty (I am told) girl of 15 and I have never had a date in my life. I am sure it is because I am so smart in school. It is very embarrassing always to get the highest grade in the class. How can I solve this? I don't want to let my grades drop just to be popular. Can you offer a suggestion? Tagged — "THE BRAIN"

Dear Brain: Use that superior brain of yours to noodle out the real reason for your unpopularity. The grades are your alibi — not your problem.

Dear Abby: Nick and I were engaged for three months and all our friends knew it. We broke up about two weeks ago and I gave Nick his ring back. Now everyone wants to know what happened. They ask me if I broke it off, or did he? I don't feel like talking about it. Besides, it's nobody's business. How do I answer these busybodies?

NOT TALKING
Dear Not: Simply tell them that you and Nick agreed to disagree. Period. Then change the agreed to an across-the-board increase in aid in the war against the Communist Viet Cong and hinted that the war will soon be expanded outside this country.

"The U.S. government has offered additional military and economic assistance to improve the execution of the government's programs and to restrain the mounting infiltration of men and equipment by the Hanoi regime in support of the Viet Cong," a communique said.

additional evidence. Then the gray-haired commissioner said she had no alternative but to grant a defense motion to throw out the charges.

"The defendants are discharged," she said, and ordered their release from bonds of $3,500 to $5,000.

The defendants, including Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and his deputy, Cecil Price, left the Meridian Courthouse free of all charges only six days after their arrest in a roundup by FBI agents.

The dramatic moment in the hearing came with the first and only witness, FBI agent Henry Rask of Atlanta. Owen asked the agent if he had interviewed Barnett, one of 10 men the FBI had charged with taking part in the slayings.

Rask testified he interviewed Barnett, 25, of Cullen, La., and formerly of Meridian, on Nov. 19, 20 and 21.

"Did you obtain from him a signed confession?" the short, broad-faced Owen inquired quietly. There was complete silence in the packed courtroom.

"I did," Rask said.

Then Owen asked the agent how he obtained the statement and Rask began: "I talked to Mr. Barnett and we discussed various things..." Here the battery of 14 defense attorneys interrupted with objections that the testimony was hearsay or second hand.

They argued that if Barnett had confessed, then he should testify. Owen countered that Barnett was a codefendant and his presence at the hearing had no connection with admissibility of the evidence. Owen said he was prepared to present "the signed confession to the commissioner."

But Miss Carter ruled against him. There was more argument from both sides, and the defense attorneys asked for time to confer about their position on Bar-

Weir Farm Sale Upheld by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Word reached government sources here Thursday that the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis had upheld sale of James Weir's farm near Dermott to satisfy a $16,972 judgment to overplanting his 1959 rice allotment.

U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley of Little Rock, who earlier had declared that the sale was legal, was upheld by the appeals court.

Weir still has possession of the farm but the purchasers are seeking to evict him in another suit. Weir's farm brought $60,000 at public auction in Lake Village. The U.S. marshal impounded the balance and used it to satisfy overplanting judgments for 1960 and 1961.

Court Edict Makes Arkansas No. 1

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks are the No. 1 football team in the nation according to Arkansas Supreme Court edict.

Associate Justice Sam Robinson — all in fun, of course — granted a petition Thursday from two University of Arkansas students asking that their team be declared No. 1.

net's statement. The defendants, sitting in the jury box or adjacent to it, did not appear perturbed by the agent's testimony about a confession. Their attorneys returned to the courtroom to announce that they stood on their objection.

Thought For The Day
To be born is to suffer; to grow old is to suffer; to lose what is loved is to suffer; to be tied to what is not loved is to suffer; to endure what is distasteful is to suffer. In short, all the results of individuality, of separate self-hood, necessarily involve pain or suffering. - Subhadra Bhikshu said it.

High Scorers Headliners in Basketball

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
There are a lot of new faces on the college basketball scene this season, such as Louie Dampier of Kentucky, Ron Sepic of Ohio State, Wes Bialosuknia of Connecticut, Bob Lewis of North Carolina and Nevil Shed of Texas Western.
You can add John Austin of Boston College to the list today. He's a junior, but his fame as a sophomore last season was confined mostly to New England. He's headed for national recognition now since Boston College will depart shortly to play on the Pacific Coast and in the Rainbow Holiday Classic at Honolulu.
Austin, a 6-foot-1 native of Washington, D.C., made his debut at New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday night and led the Eagles to their third straight triumph, a 102-84 conquest of NYU.
Austin scored 42 points on 14 of 26 shots from the field and 14 of 17 free throws. He got 16 of his points in last six minutes after the Violets, 14 points down, reeled off 13 straight points to climb within one at 72-71.
Billy Cunningham of North Carolina with 48 points. Larry Sheffield of Notre Dame with 37. Rick Barry of Miami, Fla., with 30 and Bob Verga of Duke with 24 also made the headlines on Thursday's slim national schedule.
Cunningham set an individual single-game scoring record for North Carolina as he led the Tar Heels to a 111-74 victory over Tulane at Chapel Hill. Sheffield paced the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame to their fourth straight home victory, a 107-88 trouncing of Detroit.
Barry upped his series output to 187 points in five games as the Hurricanes downed Niagara 74-67 at Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Verga led Duke to a 93-87 overtime victory over Navy at Baltimore.
Verga stole two Navy passes in the overtime period and converted them into baskets as the in Chancery Court. Butt said that although the writ of mandamus had been granted, he had not yet signed the order compelling County Clerk Charles Whorton Jr. to allow the lists to be copied.

Who Steals My Name . . .

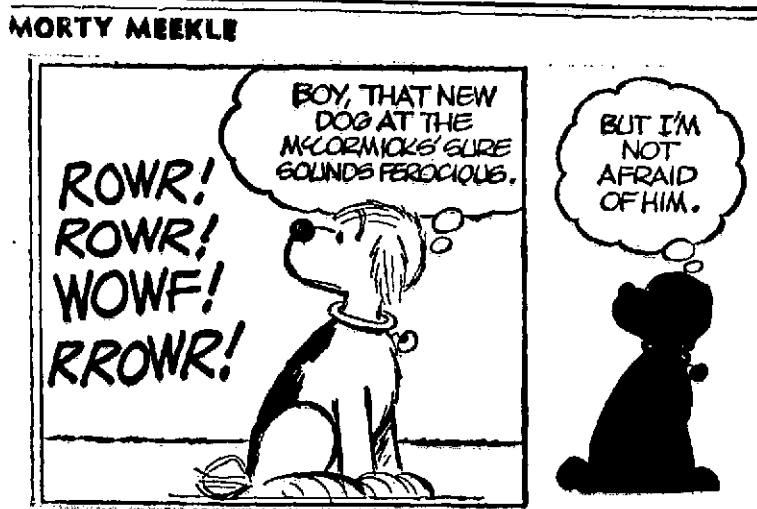

By Clay Richards

I was up early the next morning. I had breakfast in my room and left for the post office building.
Larry Porter was there when I arrived. He looked up as I entered and smiled. "Hi," he said. "Have a good night?"
"Not bad," I said.
"I called the hotel after I got home. About an hour after I left you. You weren't there yet. Conclusion: You conned me and stopped off somewhere."
The phone rang. He picked it up and said hello. Then he held it toward me. "For you."
I took it and answered. "Lieutenant Pritchard," the voice on the phone said. "I thought you might like to know there were checks written yesterday. Both of them written on stolen blanks."
"How much?"
"Five thousand each. The world is full of idiots when it comes to cashing checks. One was cashed with a bookie and the other was cashed by a night club."
"The Tomato?"
"Yeah."
I took a cab down to the Charcoal House. It was a few minutes after 12 when I got there. I paid off the driver and went up to the door. I knocked loudly and after a minute, the door opened and a man stared out.
"Yes?"
"I want to see Blackie," I said. "I'm Blake Morgan."
"Come in," he said and held the door open. I stepped inside and he closed the door. "Go straight back and you'll see an office on the right."
The door was partly open. I pushed it and walked in. Blackie Ellis was sitting behind a desk with a pile of papers in front of him. He looked up.
"Come in," he said. He leaned back in his chair and smiled.
"Your friend," he said. "Try the Olympus Hotel. He's registered under the name of Peter Jackman."
"That's the name of my friend in Chicago. The one who's on his way back."
He grunted. "Jackie came in last night. Just before I closed. She had a black eye to match the one you have."
"I'll keep it in mind," I said.
"Thanks."
I caught another cab and told him to take me to the Olympus Hotel.

It was a medium-priced hotel by the looks of it. I paid the taxi driver and walked into the hotel. The lobby had probably been special 20 years earlier. Now it was a little faded.
I walked up to the desk. There was nobody behind it. I waited. After a few minutes, a man came up to look at me. He swung the register around and put pen in front of me.
I took out my identification and spread it out in front of him. "I'm looking for a man who's registered here under the name of Peter Jackman. Is he in his room?"
"No."
"Any idea when he'll be back?"
"I'll be a long wait," he said sourly. "He checked out this morning."
"Where'd he go?"
"How do I know? I don't know where he came from and I don't know where he went. And I don't care, Mister." He turned around and walked away.
Larry Porter looked up as I entered his office.
"No prisoner in tow?"
"He checked out of the hotel this morning. The squeeze is on. He's going to be leaving town soon. He cashed two checks late yesterday. "Let's get a picture of him to every airline ticket counter at the airport and ask them to notify us if he shows up asking for a reservation. Also get in touch with every reservation office here in the city and ask them to let us know if anyone makes a reservation under the name of Richard Emery, Emery Richards, Peter Jackman, John Wright or Joseph Balk. Make the same request of the railroads just in case he tries to get out."

"I'll send a TWX to New York, then I'll see my one pipeline here. I'll check with you every hour from now on."
I went to the TWX office and sent a message to John Lane, telling him to ask for the same co-operation on any reservations made to Brazil, especially any that came through a San Francisco office. He was to get back to me or Larry Porter by phone the minute he got anything.

"The boss is at the bar," he said.
